Independent Auditor's Report

To the Board of Directors of Merrymount Children's Centre

Qualified Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of Merrymount Children's Centre ("the Centre"), which comprise the Statement of Financial Position as at March 31, 2022, and the Statement of Operations and Changes in Fund Balance, Schedule of Expenses - Operating Fund, Statement of Cash Flows for the year then ended, and notes to the financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies.

In our opinion, except for the possible effects of the matter described in the Basis for Qualified Opinion section of our report, the accompanying financial statements and related schedules present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Centre as at March 31, 2022 and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations.

Basis for Qualified Opinion

In common with many charitable organizations, the Centre derives revenue from donations and fundraising activities, the completeness of which is not susceptible to satisfactory audit verification. Accordingly, verification of these revenues was limited to the amounts recorded in the records of the Centre. Therefore, we were not able to determine whether any adjustments might be necessary to donation and fundraising revenues, net revenue (expense), and cash flows from operations for the years ended March 31, 2022, and March 31, 2021, and current assets and fund balances for the years then ended. Our audit opinion on the financial statements was modified accordingly because of the possible effects of this limitation in scope.

We conducted our audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Centre in accordance with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements in Canada, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our qualified opinion.

Emphasis of Matter

We draw attention to Note 8 of the financial statements, which describes the effects of the COVID-19 pandemic on the Centre's operations. Our opinion is not modified in respect of this matter.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements and related schedules in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations., and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements and related schedules, management is responsible for assessing the Centre's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Centre or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the Centre's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements and related schedules as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

Bringing Solutions Together

As part of an audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements and related schedules, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the Centre's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements and related schedules in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Centre's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Centre's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements and related schedules or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Centre to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements and related schedules, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements and related schedules represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieve fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

Purpose of the Organization

Merrymount Children's Centre ("the Centre") is a caring organization committed to providing support and crisis care for children and families. The Centre delivers responsive and innovative services and programs to strengthen children and their families in times of transition. The Centre's vision is to be a recognized and respected leader in the field of crisis support and transition services for children and their families.

The Centre was incorporated by Letters Patent constituting a corporation without share capital on November 14, 1874.

The Centre is a registered charity within the meaning of the Income Tax Act (Canada) and is exempt from income taxes.

1. Accounting Policies

The accompanying financial statements are prepared in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations. The significant accounting policies are summarized below.

Revenue Recognition

The Centre follows the restricted fund method of accounting for contributions.

Revenue from provincial and municipal subsidies, contracted services and amounts from Merrymount Foundation Inc. are recognized in the Operating Fund on the accrual basis, matching the revenue with related expense. Where receipts relate to Operating Fund expenses planned for a future period, recognition of the revenue is deferred to that future period.

Unrestricted donations, fundraising events revenue and bequest contributions are recognized as revenue in the Operating Fund as received. Restricted donations are recognized as revenue in the Restricted Fund as received. Gifts in kind are recorded at their estimated fair market value.

Contributions for endowment are recognized as revenue in the Restricted Funds as received. Interest income earned on restricted funds is recognized on the accrual basis as income of the appropriate restricted fund.

Fund Accounting

In order to ensure observance of the limitations and restrictions placed on the use of resources available to the Centre, the accounts of the Centre are maintained in accordance with the principles of fund accounting. Accordingly, resources are classified for accounting and reporting purposes into funds. These funds are held in accordance with the objectives specified by the donor or in accordance with directives issued by the Board of Directors. Transfers between the funds are made when it is considered appropriate and authorized by the Board of Directors.

The Operating Fund accounts for the Centre's operating activities. The Capital Fund accounts for the Centre's capital assets. The Restricted Fund accounts for endowment and other specific purpose activities which are distinct from the operating activities of the Centre.

Cash as disclosed on the Statement of Financial Position consists of cash on hand and balances with banks.

Furniture and equipment	10 %
Computer equipment	30 %
Recreational facility	10 %

Donated equipment is recorded at fair market value when such value can be reasonably estimated.

The Centre subsequently measures all its financial assets and financial liabilities at amortized cost with exception to its investments which are recorded at market value.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amount of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amount of revenues and expenses during the reported period. Specific estimates include provision for amounts repayable to municipal and provincial funders, and amortization of capital assets in terms of methods and useful lives. 8. COVID-19 Pandemic

In March 2020, the World Health Organization declared a global pandemic known as COVID-19. This pandemic has affected contracted services and programming as these have moved to a virtual basis and in-person programs are operating at a reduced capacity. The pandemic could impact funding in the future. The total impact to the Centre is not determinable at the date of these financial statements; however, it may be material and could include changes to operations and the financial position of the Centre.

9. Financial Instruments Risk Management

The Centre is exposed to various risks through its financial instruments. The following analysis provides information about the Centre's risk exposure and concentration.

Credit Risk

Credit risk is the risk that one party to a financial instrument will cause a financial loss for the other party by failing to discharge an obligation. The Centre is exposed to credit risk from clients and family support services agencies. An allowance for doubtful accounts, if required, is established based upon factors surrounding the credit risk of specific accounts, historical trends and other information. The Centre does not have any significant credit risk or concentration of credit risk.

Interest Rate Risk

Interest rate risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market interest rates. The Centre is exposed to interest rate risk as the value of its investments consisting of guaranteed investment certificates is affected by market changes in interest rates.

Liquidity Risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that an entity will encounter difficulty in meeting obligations associated with financial liabilities. The Centre manages its liquidity risk by forecasting its cash needs on a regular basis and seeking additional information based on those forecasts. The Centre maintains sufficient funds in cash to protect against unforeseen obligations.
